

Regional Development Australia Limestone Coast

WANTED - BUSINESSES WILLING TO PARTICIPATE IN THE YOUTH READY PROJECT

Developing resources that enable employers to better understand, support and be ready for youth employees.

A team of local researchers from Mount Gambier campus of the University of South Australia and the Partnership Broker, Regional Development Australia Limestone Coast are seeking businesses willing to participate in the Youth ready project. Both supervisors and young people of those businesses willing to be involved will be asked a predetermined list of questions by a researcher. All information provided in interviews will be anonymous and not traceable to any individual participant. From this a report detailing the research and recommendations will be completed and distributed and a resource kit will be produced and disseminated to employers.

Helen Strickland said;

“We are seeking individual staff and young workers in businesses to take part in this project. We particularly want to speak with Agriculture, Forestry, Fishing, Retail, Manufacturing and Construction industries.”

For further information about the research and to register your interest contact:-

Helen Strickland
Manager Skills, Career and Workforce Development
8723 1057 – 0458 198 817

A/Professor Judy Nagy
Associate Dean Teaching and Learning
08 8302 8910

Mike Ryan, CEO
8723 1057 – 0428 252 422
Date: 17th March 2014

University of South Australia

The Partnership Broker program is funded by the Commonwealth of Australia as represented by the Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations

An Australian Government Initiative

