Regional Development bodies now cohabit with Forestry

The Limestone Coast region's key Regional Development bodies are now open for business in the very modern ForestrySA building on Jubilee Highway East, Mount Gambier.

Over the Christmas/New Year period, Regional Development Australia Limestone Coast (RDALC), plus the South East Local Government Association (SELGA), and officers from AusIndustry, the Department of State Development and the Entrepreneurs Infrastructure Program, all moved from the Old Town Hall in Commercial Street, to their new premises adjacent to the iconic Umpherston Sinkhole.

The move was necessary to allow the new James Morrison Music Academy to occupy the Old Town Hall. According to RDALC CEO, Mike Ryan, "While we loved the convenience and the historic atmosphere of the Old Town Hall, we're also delighted with our new home. It's very light and airy and spacious. But being a cutting edge five star green office building, it's easy to keep comfortable without much artificial heating or cooling".

The new tenants have already integrated well with the very helpful Forestry staff. They share common recreation areas and RDALC also provides reception facilities for all tenants, including ForestrySA.

For visitors and customers of the regional development bodies, there's also plenty of parking right near the entrance.

Mike Ryan encourages anyone interested in regional development or seeking state and federal government business assistance, to drop to their new "one stop shop" on Jubilee Highway East.

While the address has changed, the phone number has not. It's still 8723 1057.
